

I am against any further consolidation of media ownership. I am afraid the FCC is treating the airwaves as political spoils. The public good is not the same as "he with the most cash wins." The FCC has an obligation to preserve and encourage diversity in our media ownership and an obligation to oppose monopolization. Our democracy depends upon this.